The ancient people I have chosen to study is the Maya Civilization, because of the many advances they made in linguistics, mathematics, art, and architecture. Even though the Maya Civilization collapsed after the end of their 'classic period' (250 to 900 A.D.), a massive amount of impressive architecture and symbolic artwork was left behind. Because the Maya Civilization had particularly detailed artwork and architecture, and because I enjoy studying art and architecture, the Maya Civilization is an excellent choice of study. Additionally, The Lakehead University library database has many scholarly articles on the Maya Civilization.
